Ventless Hood Systems

Giles Ventless Hood Systems can be installed in locations such as high rise buildings, listed buildings, airports, shopping centres or any other place where structural changes are not allowed. The ventless hood can be easily moved to various locations. These hoods do not need to vent to the outside of any building, they are self contained.

The system works in 3 stages:

1. Exhaust air passes through the baffle filters which collect large grease particles
2. It is then passed through an electronic air cleaner which attracts and collects the remaining grease
3. The air then passes through a charcoal filter which eliminates odours and traps any remaining grease particles

The unit is pre-designed for fitting an Ansul Fire Retardant System. They can be placed over electric fryers, ranges, pizza ovens etc.
